TOBACCO MARKET MAY NOT START BEFORE JAN. 1

No Good Season Yet for Dark Weed; Virtually None is Stripped

BURLEY MARKET IS REACHING NEW HIGHS

As dark-fired tobacco growers are going around with long faces due to the lack of a season for stripping their crop and getting it ready for market and as buyers are talking that the market will not open until after the first of the year, burley tobacco is bringing the best prices in eight years.

Virtually no tobacco in Calloway county is stripped and but very little bulked down. There has not been a suitable season since the crop was cut and fired.

Some farmers were able to bulk down a portion of their crop Sunday but the cold weather that night halted them and none were able to get to stripping. The stalks are now as cold as a frost-bitten corn stalk.

Buyers in this section have not yet agreed on an opening date for auction sales and are understood to be in agreement that it will not be until after January 1.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 8.—Climbing to still higher level than that recorded in its surprising opening sales, the Lexington tobacco market today averaged $30.93 a hundred for the 1,254,386 pounds of burley leaf that went over the floors of the six warehouses when sales were conducted. The money distributed today amounted to $387,976.72.

Prices today compared favorably with the highest levels of Monday, and showed signs of going higher as the sales progressed during the day. The price range was from $1 to $50, the top being $2 above the highest level on opening day.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 8.—Better prices and larger weed receipts as compared to last year, featured the opening of the burley tobacco market at three warehouses here today.

Growers received $43,794.95 from the sale of 165,430 pounds for an average of $26.47 a hundred pounds.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Dec. 8.—Opening of the burley tobacco market in Owensboro today averaged $27.77 per 100 pounds in the bright leaf over the corresponding day last year. There was a completed sale of 157,610 pounds of burley, which brought the growers $43,288.50, an average of $27.47, one of the best in the history of the Green River District.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Dec. 8.—Burley sales totaled 128,512 pounds at an average of $27 per hundred here today. Receipts were $34,686.22. The high basket brought $50.

FISCAL COURT IN MONTHLY SESSION

Rents Sewing Room for 1937; Makes Ruling on Court House Telephone

The Calloway fiscal court met in its regular monthly session Tuesday, transacting in addition to the routine allowing of various claims. The final report of Treman Beale, who recently finished a term as county treasurer, was received. Mr. Beale was succeeded the past summer by T. H. Stokes.

The sewing room on the third floor of the Ryan building at Fourth and Main streets was released by the court for 1937.

Proceeds of the 15% payment received from a receiver's certificate in the First National Bank was ordered deposited to the miscellaneous fund account.

The court voted to make each office holder responsible for the long distance tolls charged to the phone in his office. Calls made on county business will be allowed, when presented and verified; all others will be charged to the individual who made them without responsibility by the county.

Only through knowledge can disease be prevented. How to prevent tuberculosis is a part of the campaign financed by the annual sale of Christmas Seals. Have you bought your share?

"Ignorance kills; knowledge saves." Every day Christmas Seal funds are providing knowledge that saves human lives.

Christmas Lights Make Court Square Beautiful

The prettiest decorated Christmas business section in this entire area is in Murray.

The holiday lights were turned on the latter part of last week and entwined with the evergreens around the square they reflect the Christmas spirit.

The lighting arrangement was planned and executed by Harold White of the Kentucky-Tennessee Light and Power Co., while the foliage effect and wiring were done by Carroll Farmer.

The Murray business area was decorated much earlier this year and is the most attractive it has ever been. The stores, too, have exceeded all previous standards in decorating their windows and interiors.

The Young Business Men's Club sponsored the plan.

NUISANCE TAXES REPEAL PROPOSED BY THE GOVERNOR

Special Session of Legislature May Be Called in Near Future

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 9.—Fifteen subjects for possible consideration by the Kentucky General Assembly in an extraordinary session expected to be called late next month were outlined today at the initial meeting of the Kentucky Legislative Council created by the 1936 General Assembly.

Seven of the proposals, including repeal of taxes on ice cream, candy, chewing gum, nuts and cosmetics, were suggested by Governor Chandler, and the remaining eight were brought forward by members of the council, which is composed of five Senators, five Representatives, five elective state officials, the president of the Senate, the speaker of the House and the Governor himself.

"Consider the possibilities of an extra session of the legislature," the Governor told the council in an impromptu talk. "I don't say we will have one, but if I decide to call one, you will hear about it."

May Come Within Month

The Governor is known to be considering calling such a session within the next month or two. He asked the council, whose duty it is to make a legislative study and suggest a program to the legislature, to consider only "emergency" legislation and to reach an agreement on all matters brought up.

"Agree on the bills and stand up and fight for them," he told the members.

The fifteen proposals suggested for consideration of the council and possible inclusion in a special session call included:

Amendment of the 1936 cigarette tax act to provide compensation to wholesalers for collecting the tax through affixing stamps.

Repeal of the ice cream, candy, chewing gum, nuts and cosmetics sections of the 1936 "omnibus" tax bill.

Provision for state unemployment insurance legislation to conform to the Federal Social Security Act.

Legislation to control the production of tobacco, dependent on enactment of similar legislation by other tobacco-growing states.

Legislation to enable communities to avail themselves of electricity generated by government operated projects such as Norris Dam.

Possible refinancing of the toll bridge debt with a view to reduction of tolls and expansion of the state's toll bridge acquisition program.

Of unemployment insurance legislation, the Governor said he had requested labor to prepare such a bill earlier this year "but they never did." He and Commissioner Martin expressed the opinion Kentucky would not lose its employees' payments under the federal act regardless of the state's failure to enact its own bill.

"There should be some reasonable agreement on minimum wages for labor," the Governor told the council.

After reviewing the accomplishments of his first year in office and inviting the council members and their wives to his luncheon guests tomorrow—the first anniversary of his inauguration—the Governor asked the council to "avoid hasty and ill-considered legislation" and suggested that it take ample time for its work. The council, he said, takes the place of the Reorganization Commission appointed earlier this year.

TO DEMONSTRATE WEED STRIPPING

Tobacco Growers Invited to Exhibitions by Government Experts

By Charles Farmer

There are better methods being offered the farmers of this and adjoining counties, in stripping, handling, and conditioning their tobacco in preparation for the market. This service is being carried on by government men employed by the B. A. E. department.

In this work there is being stripping demonstrations held in different parts of the county. If the growers will attend these meetings, they will get some suggestions that will be profitable to them.

In the demonstrations that have been held the farmers that were in attendance seem to have very much interest in this work.

In anyway that these men can help the grower in preparing his tobacco for the market, they are ready and willing to do so.

Every Christmas Seal is a vote against tuberculosis. Stuff the ballot box against this grater on human lives by buying and using every Christmas Seal you possibly can.

"Agree on what are public emergencies," he said, "and prepare bills properly in this council so they won't have to be changed when they are introduced." Agree on the bills, and stand up and fight for them.

The Governor said he did not want any "assault" on the government reorganization bill, which he said is "working fine." He said it may be advisable to change the old-age pension law to permit pensioners to own a maximum of about $250 in property instead of owning no property at all as now provided.

City Council Moves To Pave Alleys

The city council, in its bi-monthly meeting last Friday night, instructed the city attorney to draw up an ordinance concerning the paving of alleys in the business district of the city. This is being considered as a PWA project and will save the merchants and owners of the respective business houses quite a bit of money if carried on by the PWA project.

However, with the ordinance, and failure to cooperate with the project, the merchant or owner of the building will have to bear the total expense of paving the alley behind each respective building.

"The sewer project, that has been under consideration for some time, was readjusted and sent to PWA headquarters for approval. This project is an addition to the present system and will adequately cover Murray if accepted and approved by the authorities in charge of the PWA work."

Only other routine business was disposed of at the meeting.

Esq. and Mrs. G. M. Potts Royally Entertain Fiscal Court at Dinner

That good old fashioned country dinner that one reads about and so rarely has the good fortune to participate in was spread by Esq. G. M. Potts and his good helpmate Tuesday noon in honor of the Calloway county Fiscal Court and a few friends at their home west of Stella.

The choicest and most substantial foods, tastefully prepared and courteously and bountifully served, fitted three tables to the groaning point as the assembled guests participated in the cordial hospitality and friendship of this exemplary farm home.

Country ham, baked chicken with dressing that typified the highest home-makers' art, home-made sausage, choice salads of fruit and vegetables and all the trimmings that go with such a bountiful feast kept the guests so seriously occupied, with this food paradise that, for once, even Ernest Jones was too busy to loathe his merry and rebounding laughter. Mrs. Potts was capably assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Gingles, who made the ice cream.

1460 IN CALLOWAY APPLY FOR GRANTS IN SOILS PROGRAM

County Expected to Receive Roundly $140,000 for Co-operation in '36

COMMITTEE ON JOB TO AID LATE COMERS

Fourteen hundred and sixty applications for grants on the 1936 soil conservation program have been forwarded to the State office for preparation for their journey to Washington to receive payment. The county agent has been notified that 253 of these applications are now in Washington in the process of having checks written and returned to Calloway county. Some few farmers are very careless about postponing the time for signing the applications for grants and when checks start coming into the county they are going to wait theirs and of course it is impossible to have their checks in the county until their applications are signed and duly executed and made the round to Lexington and Washington and then checks returned to the county.

The County Committee will be in the office every day this week to help those who have failed thus far to sign their application to get it signed, duly executed and ready for its journey for the payment. Every one has been notified, unless some one has been overlooked, that this week is the week to finish up. The committee and agent wishes to urge every one who has not previously signed their application to do so at once that all checks may be cleared through before it is too late. This program is different from programs in the past in that there is a definite application set aside for each year and it must be used within a limited time or it will be diverted back to the general fund of the United States Treasury and after that it is impossible to get a payment made on an application for grant.

It still appears that the farmers of Calloway county will receive approximately $140,000 for their participation in the program in 1936. Every one who is to receive some of this must first have signed a work sheet in the spring of 1936, had his farm measured by a supervisor and signed an application for grant which is being done at the present time in the county office. Some counties of the State have received their payments but cause their applications were submitted promptly.

FARMERS TO HEAR LEAF TAX PLANS

Boone Hill, Pool President, to Discuss Questions Here Saturday, 2 o'clock

Do the farmers of Calloway county favor a production control program similar to the 1934 and 1935 years? Would farmers of this county rather go along as we have gone previously to these two years?

These questions will be discussed at a county wide meeting at the courthouse, Saturday, December 12, at 2 p. m. Boone Hill, president of the Western Dark Fired Tobacco Growers Association, also a member of the Kentucky State Farm Bureau Federation, and a member of the tobacco committee of the same federation will speak and explain the Compact bill which authorizes states of like tobacco production to form themselves into a program that will prevent a tax on the excess tobacco similar to the Kerr-Smith Act of 1934. Every farmer of the county is invited to hear this discussion and participate in same and before adjournment the Farm Bureau wishes to get an indication from the group as to their attitude toward this proposed program.

County Agent John T. Cochran urges every farmer in the county who produces tobacco to attend this meeting and understand what is taking place and give his voice in favor or against the proposal. This is an opportunity to have a voice in the future of the tobacco industry of the state. Be there and do your part.

"No home is safe from tuberculosis until all homes are safe because it is a communicable disease caused by a germ that can be passed by the sick to the well. The Christmas Seals you buy help to find the sick and to protect the well."

Last year there were 16 deaths from tuberculosis in Calloway county. You may have part in this great life-saving work by purchasing Christmas Seals.

Mrs. Bucy was a member of one of the county's prominent families on the East side. ## Financial Arrangements Complete, L. L. Veal Announces

REVIEWS SITUATION

The Western Dark Fired Tobacco Growers' Association has made financial arrangements to handle the 1936 crop for its membership, consisting of approximately 9,500 growers.

L. L. Veal, general manager, states that the advance this season will be slightly higher than last year. He points out that the government estimate on this crop is 3,300,000 pounds less in the Western District, Type-23, and in the Eastern District, Type-22, there is a decrease of 13,000,000 pounds, and in the Stearns District, Type-24, there is a decrease of 33 per cent.

The Association's holdings are less now than anytime since they finished pricing the 1932 crop; and in view of receiving three crops since then, one of which was the largest in history of the organization, which bears out the fact that the tobacco is being orderly marketed as the trade demands.

Mr. Veal is optimistic as to snuff purchases and he feels that the French buyers will at least equal their '35 crop purchases. If Spain should not buy their hostilities she would take a large amount of our type of tobacco to meet her requirements, as Spain had contracted several million pounds of tobacco prior to their war which was never delivered. He feels that they produced and purchased any amount since then. Spain was not represented in our markets for last year.

The sales of Association's holdings of prized tobacco has been more since we finished pricing the 1935 crop than any other year, except when a large order was made for exports on the 1931 and 1932 crops.

Mr. Veal states that he does not think that tobacco of this year will be much higher, but it will be equally as high this year. He also stresses that the 1937 average should not be increased on our dark-fired type and not until foreign relations are satisfactorily adjusted.

Farm Bureau Notes

Some of the things the Farm Bureau has done in a national way:

In March 1933, President Roosevelt called the leading farm organizations to Washington to help work out a plan whereby the farmers might be helped out of their deplorable condition brought about by the depression and great surplus of farm products.

These farm organizations were the Farm Bureau, Farmers Union and The Grange. The work of these three farm organizations brought about the crop adjustment programs. These programs were conceived by farmers drawn up by farmers, and operated by farmers, with the help of the government.

The Farm Bureau played a major part in securing this legislation and in carrying on the program.

In three years with the help of the drought surpluses were reduced and the farm income reached two and a half billion higher than in 1932.

Then came the Supreme Court decisions, after which the farm organizations were called back to formulate a plan that would still help the farmer and at the same time be constitutional. From this meeting was brought about the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act. This act is that which we are working under at the present time, and from which our checks will soon be coming.

Under this program Calloway county farmers have built between 40 and 45 miles of terraces, put out over 1000 tons of lime, has a lime crater operating at full capacity on the east side of the county and have done more soil conserving practices than ever before.

Other things the Farm Bureau asked Congress for and fought for:

1. Payment of adjustments, on 1935 AAA contracts.

2. Keeping 3 1/2 percent rate on Federal Farm Loans.

3. Reciprocal trade agreements.

4. Farm to market roads.

5. Rural electrification.

The farmers make up about 25 percent of our population. In 1935 they received about 7 1/2 percent of national income. In 1935 they received 11 percent. Is that enough?

In the eight counties west of the river, the Farm Bureau has about 2000 members (and by the way Calloway has only 72). If there were 4000 members could we not have a greater influence with our senators and representatives, on farm legislation? Could we not make a united stand and have much more influence than if we work as individuals?

If the farmers of Calloway county would the next time you are in county agent's office or see a Farm Bureau member, give him your $5 and tell him you want to do your part to unite the farmers into one great group that can do something for the benefit of agriculture, you would be doing that which would be worth while.

So why not consider this a duty and join the Calloway county Farm Bureau.

Almo High School

Every one in school is getting the Christmas spirit since old Man Winter has begun pinching us this week. The first six grades are working hard on their operetta to be given the afternoon of December 23. They are also to sponsor a Christmas tree. This program is free and everyone within the reach of Almo is invited to be here on that day and see these youngsters perform.

The debate teams are at work on the state debate question, and hope to arrange some practice debates with teams in the county immediately following the holidays.

After getting off to a very bad start our basketball teams won 2 games from Murray Training School last Friday night. This was the first victory for the Almo Warriors this season. Our next game is with the Faxon Cardinals at Faxon next Friday night, December 11. Due to the added experience of the Cardinals and the fact that they defeated Hazel 30-22 while Hazel defeated 33-11, this will be a very tough game on the Warriors, but we hope to give them an interesting game. Monday night, December 14, we play the Murray High School Tigers on the Murray floor.

We are looking forward to the holiday vacation which begins Wednesday afternoon, December 22, and last until Monday, January 4, 1937.

Several new students have been enrolling in our grades the past few days. We are also having a few to move out of the district.

Though an oversight, one name was left off the honor roll last week. It should have read: Junior class: Frances Suter.

Faxon Facets

As the edison in our faculty play said, "Play acting's a dum foolishness!" Are we glad it's over! Two of us had indignation from lunch Saturday. As one in the play said, "There's nothing cute about it!" But after all, I am sure we all enjoy occasionally to get out of our own humdrum characters into those of a play. The crowd seemed to enjoy it immensely, and it was a large crowd, despite the threatening and doing weather, and a very attentive and orderly crowd. Of course, there was a laugh a minute. Mr. Walston, as Silas Smidge, came in for the greatest praise, but each actor did his part well, and Mrs. Walston again proved her ability as a coach.

Neither the audience nor the actors were greatly disturbed when the light plant went dead, and the only illumination anywhere was a kerosene lamp and two small candles, stage properties.

Many declare "Silas Smidge" to be the most enjoyable play ever staged at Faxon. My aunt, a school play fan, extended her visit another week to see this play. She saw the recent much-touted McCracken County Farm Bureau play, "It's a Knockout"—and it was just that, the said—but she averred that "Silas Smidge" was one of the best she has seen.

Little Miss Ardath Ahart, the local victim of the recent paralysis epidemic, celebrated her ninth birthday Sunday. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Ahart, set dinner for several of the neighboring relatives and friends, but the downpour of rain kept several away. Ardath is slowly but surely improving, and although she cannot walk yet, she can ride a tricycle a little.

Miss Irene Colson has been indisposed, but she is well. She has been spending several days with Mrs. Holman Jones and with her sister, Mrs. Oscar Folwell.

Mrs. Sadie Vance is worse again. The two Tillerys, one with diabetes, the other with a cut foot, are improving. Mr. Elkins and Mr. Giles are somewhat better, although Mr. Giles has not been so well the last few days. Mr. Drennon continues very low.

His elder son, Thurmon, and his family, came from Smith, Mo., last week to see Mr. Drennon. Roy and his family moved some time ago from Oklahoma to help care for his father.

Miss Reima Ross is slightly better, it is thought. Reima is a good student and a sweet girl. I had planned to visit her Sunday afternoon, but the young flood sent me to bed to recuperate from the play.

4-H CLUBS MAKE NEXT YEAR PLANS

109 Youngsters Completed Project This Year, Help Is Appreciated

The county 4-H club officers and leaders met Tuesday, December 3, and discussed plans for 1937. There will be six clubs next year and possibly eight. H. C. Brown and Miss Anita Burnam explained 4-H club work to the group and aided them in their plans for another year. Plans were made to have Miss Edith Lacy to visit the county the latter part of January or the early part of February and discuss with the leaders the girls project for 1937.

Projects that will be carried by 4-H club girls in 1937 are clothing, foods, and canning. Boys' projects in 1937 will be tobacco, corn, dairy and poultry with a few exceptions for boys who have special programs.

The 4-H clubs appreciate the help that has been given them throughout 1936 by the business and professional men of Murray and other towns of the county and trust that their cooperation and support will be given in 1937. In 1936 there were 109 boys and girls who completed their projects and in 1937 the goal is aimed at 190 and with the help of leaders, club officers and parents along with the business and professional men the goal can be attained with very little trouble.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. Lucille Pentecost entertained in her home near Mercer, Tenn., complimenting Mrs. E. D. Farris, with a miscellaneous shower.

The living room which was decorated with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums, was thrown open to 26 guests, members of the W. M. S. and good friends of Rev. Farris.

A contest that created much interest was "A Love Story in Song." The prize awarded the winner in this contest went to Addie Marsh, which she graciously added to the gifts of the absent bride.

The novelty of the shower was, it being a "Bridles" shower, a telegram arriving at 2 o'clock informing the host that the Rev. and Mrs. Farris could not be present.

In spite of the gloom this cast over the party, the gifts were opened and "packed" to be expressed to the owner.

Late in the afternoon fruit jello with whipped cream and cake was served by the host, assisted by Mrs. W. D. Laney and little Elsie Taylor.

The Rev. and Mrs. Farris were unable to attend on account of the former's illness with a severe cold. Mrs. Farris was Miss Sally Howard, of Lynn Grove, before their marriage. The Rev. Farris preached at Mercer while a student at Lambuth College, Jackson, Tenn. He is now assigned to the Hardin circuit.

Story of Stubblefield May Appear in Feature "Strange as It Seems"

Mayor W. S. Swann of Murray has recently received a request from John Hix, author of the syndicated feature, "Strange as It Seems", for information and photographs of Nathan B. Stubblefield, radio inventor and pioneer. The material asked-for by Mr. Hix has been sent, it was announced here today.

"Strange as It Seems" is a syndicated newspaper feature which appears in some two hundred daily papers.

Mr. Hix, a resident of Hollywood, Calif., wrote Mr. Swann as follows: "I have recently become interested in reports concerning the plan to establish a national park as a monument to Nathan B. Stubblefield."

It is true that Mr. Stubblefield built and sold the first radio around the year 1902? Could you give me further details on this subject? Is there a picture of Mr. Stubblefield available? If so, I would more than appreciate your signing one along to me. If desired, the picture may be returned after it has served its purpose as a guide in illustrating.

"I am interested in this subject as possible material for use in STRANGE AS IT SEEMS, my syndicated newspaper feature which appears in some two hundred daily papers, and would welcome any available information."

MEMORIAL BAPTIST CHURCH

The Sunday School opens at 9:30 a. m. Lesson subject, "John's Vision on Patmos." Rev. 14-18. We have adequate classes and separate class rooms for all ages. We put the emphasis on the study of the Bible.

Morning Worship at 10:45 o'clock. The pastor's subject will be "COSTLY OFFERINGS." 2-Sam. 24:24. Every member of the church is urged to be present. Special announcement concerning the Christmas offering for the building fund will be made.

Evening Worship at 7 o'clock. Pastor's subject: "SIN." This will be the third in a series of twelve Sunday evening messages on questions of eternal importance. The following questions will be answered: What is sin? What is the doctrine of original sin? Are all men sinners? What are the consequences of sin? What does the Bible teach as to the salvation of infants?

Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Our Bible study class will meet Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in the church building. All who want to know more about the Bible are invited. Lesson, Matt. 1:1-23. A mimeographed outline of the chapter will be given to all who come. All are cordially invited to attend all of these services. We seek to make our worship simple, Scriptural and spiritual. For good is spirit; and they that worship Him in spirit and in truth.

Carroll Hubbard, Pastor

CAMP MURRAY CHATTERS

Company 1517's net teams added two victories to their side of the score board last week. Mayfield went down to a 18-12 score Tuesday evening on the Murray High School court. Enix, guard, and Henly, center were high men for the Murray and Mayfield camps respectively, each making seven points.

The Greyhounds administered a drubbing to Clinton's five to the tune of 37 to 18 on the Columbus High School court. Sndefur, forward for 1517, was high man with 12 points and Austin, guard of Clinton was high man of that team with 8 points.

Murray's two-year rivalry, Paducah, are in the lead, while Murray and Columbus are tied for a close second.

There can be no doubt as to the effectiveness and popularity of the camp's worship services as attendance continues high. Both Chaplain Jones' last Tuesday's service and the Rev. Sam P. Martin's the week previous registered attendance well over the hundred mark.

Building of Murray State Teachers College

And they broke ground. Broke deeply, clayed morass. With ceremonial pomp. There, hearts waxed warm. To see the ghost of structure—risen mass. David and looming—in its phantom form, Clinging in spirit realm, undaunted, till Great men could grasp the glory of a dream. Tinct and concrete, and of service bent. For health of youth, their combined dreams did mean. This consummation, that their efforts lent. A loved creation of the heart and will. Those minds of power and courage, Who dare to capture and to moon such dreams. Surpass the poet's and the painter's arts: Make sweet, reality—not just what seems. —Ruth Rowlett Church

Coalins Section of Calloway County Included in Big Resettlement Project

Federal Project to Cost $349,000 in Three Counties

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The Resettlement Administration has completed contracts to purchase 75,585 acres of land in Kentucky, as one step in its $1,197,000 program for the benefit of "sub-marginal" farmers in the state.

All except 583 acres of this land is to be retired from farming and turned into government forestry preserves, recreation centers, park areas and game refuges. The 583 acres, a Resettlement project known as "Sublimity Farms" in Laurel county, has been planned as the future home of 66 farm families taken from less productive land.

Records in the Resettlement Administration offices here showed 173 men were at work on "Sublimity Farms," and eight farm residences had been started there. Preliminary estimates placed total cost of the project at $368,000.

Before owners of the 75,585 acres under option receive their government checks, each contract is audited by a regional office, examined by the Resettlement Administration's legal division and by the Department of Justice, then sent to the Treasury Department for final approval.

Land-use projects in Kentucky, from which farm families are to be removed, are an 11,773-acre forestry and recreation area in Bell and Haden counties, to cost an estimated $204,000; a 9,899-acre forest and game reserve in Caldwell and Christian counties, to cost about $170,000; the Coalins Forest area of 49,021 acres in Trigg, Lyon and "Calloway" counties, to cost about $349,000; and the Otter Creek Park area of 3,312 acres in Edmonson and Hart counties, estimated to cost $106,000.

Judge Hale Named Probation Officer

Judge C. A. Hale has been named parole and probation officer for the Third Judicial district and was in Eddyville Monday in connection with his new assignment.

The appointment was made last week by Governor A. B. Chandler. Judge Hale was former county judge of Calloway county and also served this county as tax commissioner.

Things to do today: Buy Christmas Seals.

FARMINGTON BANK VISITED BY YEGGS

Get Only Small Change When They Can't Blast Doors to the Vault

MAYFIELD, Ky., Dec. 4.—Yeggs pried open the lock on the front doors of the Bank of Farmington last night, burned through the front walls of the vault and escaped with between $25 and $30 in change, taken from trays in the front part of the vault. An unsuccessful attempt was made to blow open the inner vault doors where the bank's resources were locked up.

Clinton M. Jones, cashier, discovered the robbery shortly after 7 o'clock this morning when his front door key failed to open the doors and he gave them a push, gaining entrance. The doors had been closed again and to all outside appearances, the bank had not been entered.

The yeggs cut telephone wires leading out of the South-Graves county town and service this morning was still disrupted.

Mr. Jones said that the money taken by the robbers had been left in trays and had been placed in the front of the vault, after the regular closing time. A hole, large enough for a person to crawl through, was burned through the outside vault door with a torch and good headway had been made on the inner doors when the crackmen finally gave it up. Fumes from the torches were still distinguishable when the cashier opened the doors.

Dr. L. G. Colley said that he was aroused by a noise about 1 o'clock and shortly afterward heard an automobile drive away. This car is believed to have contained the robbers.

Sheriff Cliff Howard and deputies went to the scene at 7:30 a. m. and began an investigation. The sheriff said the job resembled one being handled by experts as no clues what ever were found. Fingerprint experts probably will investigate.

No one need die for tuberculosis. There is enough knowledge to wipe out the disease if you and everyone you know would apply that information. Christmas Seals help this life-saving knowledge. Buy them and use them.

You can put all the Christmas Seals you wish on the BACK of a letter. The post office warns against putting them on the FRONT, however. Use seals liberally because every one is a bow at tuberculosis.

Harvesting Xmas Greens

The following suggestions will, if followed, serve to perpetuate the Christmas Greens Industry and the natural beauty of the forests of Kentucky.

Christmas Trees
Cedar, pine, hemlock, spruce, and fir are our most common Christmas trees. If found in stands which are too thick for them to grow properly, surplus trees can be removed with advantage to the remaining forest. If, however, individuals stand alone, an attempt should be made to replace the tree cut by providing for a new tree to grow from the old stump. To do this, saw the tree on a slant above one of the strong lower branches. The wound will become seasoned during the winter months and the branch left will assume an upright position and produce another Christmas tree in about half the time it would take to grow one from seed. This practice should be followed wherever possible.

Holly
Holly should be pruned in such a way as to provide a symmetrical crown. Careful pruning in late fall and early winter should stimulate growth of new foliage on the pruned branches. Trees should be selected which are not in view of the traveling public. The pruning can best be done with tree pruners. The long handled type is handy in pruning tall trees. The object should be to form a well shaped crown on each tree pruned. The trees should not be pruned more often than once in three years on the average. The effect of such pruning should be somewhat similar to that resulting from "heading" trees back and "trimming" hedges. The cutting should be less severe than the former and more severe than the latter. Trees from ten to fifteen feet in height are best adapted to this use.

Hemlock Branches
Hemlock boughs for wreaths, etc., should be harvested from the lower branches only on large trees and from surplus trees in overcrowded stands of your growth. If, however, individual trees are so located and of such size and type that they can be pruned in the same manner as described for Holly, there is no objection to this practice.

Laurel
Attempts should be made to provide headings for each laurel stalk pruned. This will result in a much quicker and satisfactory growth than the cutting of the entire stalk and waiting for it to grow up again.

The famous "Moore Merry Makers" of Douglas High School who are playing on the night of December 18, in Douglas school auditorium.

This first class minstrel is worth the time of all lovers of this type of entertainment.

Then on that evening, December 18, the curtain will rise—On spirits enhancing. With jokes and prancing. With singing and dancing. To music entrancing. The curtain will rise at 7:45 p. m.—Douglas High School.

Since the first Christmas Seal was sold in 1907 the tuberculosis death rate has been cut two-thirds but it is still the leading cause of death between 15 and 45. Carry on the work by purchasing your share of Christmas Seals.

Don't wait until Christmas. Do it now. Send in your contribution for Christmas Seals. They fight tuberculosis.

Former Murrayan Dies in California

Ray Andrews, 31, Fresno, Calif., died November 27, at the Fresno County General Hospital of multiple injuries suffered. Thanksgiving day in a climax to a test of speed with his brother, ended when his car crashed into a house. Mr. Andrews is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Maupin of Murray and resided here with his mother, Mrs. Janie Wyles, some 20 years ago.

A clipping from a Fresno, Calif., paper gave the following account of the tragedy: "Ray Andrews' car left the road at the Maple Avenue railroad crossing on Belmont Avenue and came down out of control and careened for 300 feet before smashing into the front of the Adams home, demolishing the porch, the automobile and pinning the driver in the wreckage. Highway patrolmen reported they were forced to literally pry Andrews out of the wreckage to send him to the hospital. The impact tipped the motor of the automobile out of the chassis and flung it against the house, where it smashed the wall and came to rest twenty feet from the car."

CORRECTION

In last week's issue the Ledger & Times stated in its story of the fox hunters meet headquarters were at the Growers Loose Leaf Floor, operated by Bunnie Farris. The correction is: Mr. Farris is operator of the Murray Loose Leaf Floor, and we beg his pardon for this misstatement.

Signs of Christmas: The arrival of those gaily colored Christmas Seals which finance a year around campaign against tuberculosis.

Stamp and seal collectors will find the 1936 Christmas Seal interesting. Incidentally, the fastest growing branch of philately is Christmas Seal collecting.

Faxon Facets

(Arrived too late for last week)

Properly, lingering just around the corner since 1930, has finally crept into sight. Oh, not that we all have everything we want! But within the last few months many of us are getting a few of the things we have needed or wanted for so long. A few of the accessions this scribe has noted: Radio: Clyde Phelps, Crawford McClure, Holman Jones, Alton McClure, and Milburn Adams. Power washers: Mark Parker, Bub Maupin, and Gracie Terry. Home Comfort ranges: Clarence Dyer and Gracie Terry. Wear-Ever cooking sets: J. H. Walston, Fred Collier, Golden Ragsdale, Mrs. Florence Ragsdale, V. B. Folwell, Clyde Phelps, Audie Folwell, Con Geurin, and Tammam Parker. Brooder houses built: Clay Wells, Oscar Folwell, V. B. Folwell, and T. C. Geurin. Deico plant: T. C. Geurin; telephone:

Oscar Folwell, Mr. and Mrs. Taz Roberts are building a new home and Mr. and Mrs. Bub Maupin continue to improve their beautiful new home. H. L. Drennon has built a shop and installed a gasoline engine, a grist mill and a cut-off saw. Oscar Folwell has built a crib and work shop and has rebuilt his stock barn and is building a tool shed.

Several old workers are returning to the North after several years in their old Kentucky homes. Fred Collier, who has been home over three years after 14 years at Ford's, returned to Detroit last week and Raymond Phelps and Mrs. Gracie Terry, whose husband is already at work, also returned to Detroit last week. Sylvan Hale, Ivan Folwell, Albert Hale, and Obe Adams are planning to go to Detroit on Tuesday, December 1.

Mr. Giles and Mr. Elkins continue a little better, but Mr. Drennon remains very low. No new cases of illness have been reported.

ed, although Mrs. C. O. Brandon hurt her hand last week and laid same Monday morning that Rufus Drennon and his wife were possibly seriously burned by a fire started with a skillet of hot grease. Helma Ross, a sophomore at Faxon, continues not much improved with pleurisy. The entire community sympathizes with Miss Emma Keel in her bereavement. We have been sympathizing with her in that first her mother and then her father have been in very poor health since May. For six months they have sat up almost every night with the sick. Miss Emma and John have been very devoted to their parents. Our hearts go out to them in the loss of the father.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Springer and B. W. Jr., and Mrs. R. B. Fletcher and R. B. Jr., of Henderson, Ky., visited in this home Wednesday and Thursday. Alf has spent many pleasant hours in the hospitable Springer home, but this is their first time in her home. Mrs. Ellen Skinner, Paducah, an always welcome aunt, also spent the week-end with us. Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Folwell were Sunday afternoon callers.

Mrs. Alice Colson, who is recovering from a short illness, spent last week with her three sons and two daughters in Paducah. Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Walker and little son have returned home after he had worked for a few weeks in timber in Tennessee.

The white Thanksgiving seemed to furnish hunters great sport with the rabbits. Our larder was not thus replenished. We had to depend on chicken and pork.

Killing porkers is the order of the day, and moving seems in the air. Mr. and Mrs. Walston moved to Con Geurin's Saturday, and several families are hovering over the necessity.

I received two books last week that I am eager to read. One is a biography of John Jean Audubon by Constance Ruark. I had already a monograph by Miss Susan Towles, head librarian at Henderson, Ky., where the artist painted many of his birds for the great book, "Birds of America". Henderson greatly honors this early resident of ten years, but the rest of America are just discovering him. The other book is the posthumous volume of poems of the great English poet A. E. Housman, who died a few months ago. It is as slender a volume as the other two. Housman's poems are as simple, smooth, and straightforward as good prose, yet they are very poetic.—Alf.

Neighbors Build House for Sam Givens and Family

Neighbors of the New Providence section have completed a small home for Sam Givens, whose residence with almost all the contents were destroyed by fire about four weeks ago. Mr. Givens had no insurance on either his place or the furnishings, which were destroyed when they caught from a blaze which destroyed a barn on the farm of Hardy Miller, nearby.

Ten to fifteen men worked daily for several days constructing a temporary home of three rooms. The time was longer than usual because they went to the woods and cut timbers, hauling them to the sawmill to be cut lumber.

Mr. Givens is naturally very proud of and grateful to such thoughtful and sympathetic neighbors as these.

Hico News

As I haven't seen any news from this part of the county in some time, I will put in a few lines.

The health of this community is very good.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Holland is on the sick list.

Mrs. Emma Morris has been very ill and Mrs. Desiree Billington is suffering from rheumatism.

The Winter Man is using his power and all we can do is to cut wood and shiver.

Paul Holland and Garnet Cunningham have been working in Arkansas the past four weeks.

Our school at Palestine is moving along nicely. We are preparing to give a play on Saturday night, December 12. The play will furnish plenty of fun and lots of food music is scheduled, so come and I am sure you will have a pleasant evening. The play, "Up the Hill to Paradise", is a comedy-drama in three acts. The cast of characters is as follows: Abbie Fields, the gentle sister, Ruth Scott; Hester Fields, the severe sister, Dorothy Williams; Alabaster, the colored cook, Dorothy Mae Burke; Herbert Sax, their slippery boarder, Ralph Bogard; Ew Fields, their cherished niece, Ople Lee; Robert Hall, Herbert's companion and fellow-boarder, Paul Hopkins; Baldwin Ellis, Hester's long suffering suitor, Vernon Billington; Geraldine Evangeline Elyra Jones (Jerry), a city product from the Five and Ten, Juanita Holland; Annie Brown Sax, a deserted wife, Ernestine Towery; Muggsy Wood, Abbie and Hester's nephew, Pauline Houston; Mrs. Sax, Herbert's mother, Estelle Bogard. The play has an excellent cast and is being able coached by the Palestine teacher.

As the old year draws to a close, it has brought many changes in our neighborhood. Buying and selling of land has changed things considerably in the community. Bradley Overby bought the Guss Miller place, Wilson Bogard bought the Polly Gordon place, Delton Ramsey has purchased the Troy Lewis farm; and Troy Lewis has bought the Calvin Billington farm and Calvin Billington bought Mrs. Minnie Bogard's farm and all have moved to their new places, except Mr. Overby who will move first of the year. It reminds me of the old song: "Look How This World Has Made a Change".

As I was finishing up this letter the news came to me of the accident that happened to Mr. and Mrs. Duncan, who were seriously burned while preparing breakfast. It seems that this old world is full of tragedies.

Paul Holland left for Detroit in search of employment. Garnett Cunningham has returned to his work in Arkansas. I will ring off, but will see you again later.

Faxon School News

B. W. H. Farris

(Arrived too late for last week)

The faculty play was put off Saturday night, November 28, on the account of the death of Miss Emma Keel's father. We were all sorry to hear of his death. Some of us know how to sympathize with her because we have gone through the same experience.

Helma Ross, who is absent on account of illness, is improving. We hope she will soon be able to come back to school.

Mrs. Roberts, the fifth and sixth grade teacher, is absent on account of a bad tooth, but she will soon be back, we think.

Athletes

The Faxon basketball team was defeated Wednesday night, Nov. 23, by Kirksey. The score was 35 to 18. The Kirksey boys did splendid playing, Copeland being the high point man. The Faxon boys showed much improvement over previous games. We were exceptionally pleased with the referee.

The school is making preparation for three Christmas plays as well as several short speeches and declamations. These are scheduled for the eve of the Christmas Holidays. The children are manifesting keen interest as well as deriving an intense delight from these anticipated activities.

The students have finished the creation of their basketball goals and are preparing for some interesting games in the future.

Honor roll for the month is as follows: First grade: Euell Lee Kimbro, Bill Joe Crass; second grade: Eupie Jewell, Anna Lee Crass; third grade: Bona Sue Fielder, Johnnie McCage; fourth grade: Hilda Thomas; fifth grade: Uva Nell Jewell.

Martha Jean Winburn To Wed Farmer England

Mrs. H. L. Winburn, of Arkadelphia, announces the engagement of her daughter, Martha Jean to Farmer S. England. The wedding will take place Monday, December 28, at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the First Baptist church in Arkadelphia with the Rev. Thomas Wade Croxton, of Monticello, performing the ceremony. There will be no formal invitations issued and friends of the two families are invited to attend.

The announcement of the engagement is of much interest. Both Miss Winburn and her fiancé are well known. The bride-elect, who became a member of the Arkadelphia city high school faculty three years ago, is the daughter of the late Dr. H. L. Winburn, pastor of the First Baptist church at Arkadelphia for many years. She is a graduate of Ouchita college, Arkadelphia, where she specialized in music.

Mr. England, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jones, has resided in Arkadelphia for a number of years. He is connected with the Huddleston Grocery company. He has many friends in and about Murray that knew him well before going to Arkansas.

Mrs. Caplinger Heads Art Survey in County

Mrs. W. J. Caplinger, 1101 West Main, Murray, has been appointed chairman for Calloway county for the art survey being conducted under the auspices of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs and the department of Women's Club Service, University of Kentucky department of Extension, for the purpose of publishing a catalog of Kentucky Art. This catalog, which will be published by the University of Kentucky department of Extension, is being edited by Mrs. W. T. Lafferty, secretary of Women's Club Service at the University.

The county chairmen selected from all over the state are the leading women of the commonwealth, and they are asking the people of each community who own art treasures, to communicate with them in order that they may catalog those treasures.

The board of directors of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs decided to open the campaign in November, and since that time they have been carrying on an intensive survey, hoping to make a final report at the mid-winter meeting of the board, January 6. This work will be supplemented by information obtained through the schools, thus interesting the school children of the state in Kentucky art.

The art lovers of Kentucky, realizing the wealth of art material in the state, especially in the fields of portraiture and miniature, have striven for years to acquire a reliable list of Kentucky art treasures which could be published and made available for general use.

Cedar Crest News

Mrs. Goebie Hendricks of Shady Hill visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Denny Harris, this week. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones were Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mrs. Mollie Duncan. They reported a delightful day.

Fate Henderson of Unity left last week for Detroit.

Mrs. Edwin Morris is on the sick list.

Miss Audrey Harris is employed in Benton for several days each week. This past week end she was a visitor in Hardin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Jones are the proud parents of a baby girl, born Thursday week, November 26. Mrs. Yewell Jones and Mrs. Chas. Smith visited Mrs. Jones and daughter Saturday afternoon.

Chatterbox, I was recently looking old papers. One was dated June 1933, and contained a fine letter and poem you had written and it gave me new inspiration. One of my hobbies is reading old papers and magazines.

Mrs. Mollie Duncan entertained her Sunday School class Saturday afternoon. Nearly all members were present and enjoyed games and contests. Refreshments of cake, candy, and hot chocolate were served by the host.

Bill Neal and Melvan Moore killed hogs last Tuesday. Of the heavy weights, Mr. Neal had two 556 pounds; and Mr. Moore had one weighing 300 pounds.

Mrs. Casey Gordon

The large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives attending the funeral services for Mrs. Casey Gordon, exemplified the esteem they held for the deceased, formerly held for the neighborhood but who had been living with her granddaughter, Mrs. Darnell of Benton. She is survived by a son, Joe Gordon of Denver, Colo.; three stepdaughters of the county; and three stepsons, Oscar, Boland and Jackie Gordon. Services were conducted by the M. E. minister of Benton with burial in the church cemetery Wednesday, December 2. Mrs. Gordon visited here often until she received a broken hip. We extend our sympathy to friends and relatives.

Christmas Seals help pay for the nation-wide campaign against tuberculosis. They make possible such things as clinics, nursing service, prevention, rehabilitation, education, medical and social research, tuberculin testing of children, x-rays, and many other activities that help discover cases EARLY when CURE is easier.

A study of Christmas Seals which have fought tuberculosis through the years—the 1936 seal is the thirtieth—is interesting artistically as well as historically.

The U-men-and women-of science are applying their special training experience and the latest scientific equipment to the task of finding a specific cure for that aged public enemy, the tuberculosis germ. "I had regular shaking spells from nervousness," writes Mrs. Cora Sanders of Paragould, Ark. "I was all run-down and cramped at my time until I would have to go to bed. After my first bottle of Cardui, I was better. I kept taking Cardui and soon I was all right. The shaking quill and I did not cramp. I felt world better. I gave Cardui to my daughter who was in about the same condition and she was soon all right."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Stella Gossip

At last we have been blessed with a ground soaker, mud-splitter rain. Plenty of water in our cistern now. I'm figuring on taking a bath!

A week ago I heard that Virgil Bridges, age 45, and Miss Bettie Turner Hargrove, 39, were married, but was afraid to write it. Now I've seen Virgil face to face. He said: "It is a fact." They were school mates in Coldwater school, "Long, long ago."

L. H. Pogue will preach at Coldwater Church of Christ next Lord's day at 2:30 p. m. We heard him and his quartet over WPAD, Paducah, Friday at 1:10 p. m. on "What are you going to do with Jesus?" Listen in next Friday—on and on. Fine!

Hurrah! for Murray "Hi" debating club. I made my first speech in debate at 16 which was a complete failure. But by and by I got so I could tickle everybody in old Coldwater School into hysterics!

Hallet Stevens carried our Route One mail last week in place of Will Higgins Whitwell so that Will could go bird hunting. Goodbye Bob White! When he gets to be an old gray-headed man he can tell his grandchildren what a wonderful shot he was in 1936.

Constance Jones, our efficient, jovial pailer, had a dickens of a time last Sunday. Rained 24 hours straight and 8 prisoners to feed down in the jail-house, "snug as a bug in a rug."

Received Lum and Abner's 1937 Almanac and read it from "River to River" as Grandpa says. Spears would say, "A little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest of men." My granddaddy came from Ireland. What did you say, Mister?

Great excitement on rural routes yesterday. Box-holder advertisement said that "Ladies' underwear had been reduced from $1 down to 99 cents." They made a break for town in great haste. What did the men do? They sang a song of sixpence, a bottle full of rye, 4 and 20 black birds cooked into a pie. What did you say, Mister?—"Eagle!"

Family Strife Is Deadly, Boys

Trying to act as peacemaker in a family quarrel is usually a quick method of getting an Irish shillalah whanged up against the side of your head. However, having seen the disastrous results of party quarrels during our comparatively brief years of suffrage and being interested in the Democratic party continuing robust and strong in the service of the nation, we feel that we would be derelict in plain duty did we fail to sound a friendly word of warning to warring factions that their fruitless disputes are liable to profit no one and work costly injury to the party itself.

Without mincing any words we are speaking of the energetic, if not bitter, fight being made in the selection of precinct committeemen of the county who meet her Saturday to choose a county chairman to serve for the forthcoming four years.

The truth of the matter is that who holds that office, Dr. Ben Keys was the county chairman here for ten years and if there was any official occasion when it was required that he function we never heard of it. The new party law, enacted the first of this year, took from the county chairman what little, if any, power he had. About the only occasion now where he is required to serve is in a matter of importance in the selection of a candidate for congress should the nominee die. That happened this year when Judge Voris Gregory, the congressman from this district passed away. But that was the first time in many a long year and such an occasion may not arise again for several decades.

Whether the party in power happens to be Democratic or Republican, it seems to pursue the same stubborn course in fighting over patronage and positions for individuals, despite the fact that the histories of both are plain and unerring in pointing to inevitable disaster when discord sways their councils.

The course of events is so well known from past examples that it can be predicted accurately in advance. The party in power begins to dispute over the spoils while the party without the patronage bones to divide it unites to gain the upper hand. In due course, the "ins" spit so widely that the "outs" are able to win. As soon as they get "in" the conditions are reversed and the pot starts boiling generally again in the same old way.

It is proper and Democratic to hold primaries. But as soon as they are over they should be forgotten. Two irreconcilable factions in the Democratic party in Calloway county, in the First Congressional District, in Kentucky or in the United States cannot continue to exist and the Democratic party continue to endure as a virile and effective force for good government.

Politics is too uncertain and changeable a game for victors to gloat or losers to become bitter and invective.

We trust that whoever is elected county chairman this Saturday will appreciate that all are Democrats and are to be treated as such—not as victors and vanquished. That's the way we feel about it and every conscientious Democrat who is at heart interested in the permanent welfare of his party knows that we are right.

Our International Debate

The debate in the college auditorium Tuesday evening between the English team from Oxford University and the varsity debating pair of Murray State College is more than one brilliant feature in the cap of Professor L. J. Horton, debating coach at our own institution.

Murray is the only place in Kentucky where the Oxford team is appearing on this tour which will take it to leading universities in all parts of the United States. We believe we are correctly advised in that Murray is the only teachers college in the nation they will visit.

While we have had International teams here before this meeting was unique in that one Englishman team with one of Mr. Horton's young men with the other Englishman becoming the colleague of the other Murray orator.

Mr. Horton is not only solely responsible for bringing such rich and rare treats to Murray but also he has made this college's name resound gloriously in the scholastic halls of America by the remarkable success of his Murray State Teachers College debating teams since he became a member of the school's faculty.

Young men coached by him have won the highest honors in competition with some of the largest universities in the land. It takes not only work but also rich and rare ability on part of coach and his material to achieve such heights as those on which they securely rest. All honor to them.

You can't prevent tuberculosis if you don't know how. Christmas Seals make possible the campaign which tells HOW TO PREVENT this disease which still causes almost 70,000 unnecessary deaths in the United States each year.

A single Christmas Seal is not very big but the teamwork of millions of them is making the fight against tuberculosis successful.

JUST JOTS

By Joe

All the future over the King and Wally just proves once more what is as old as the hills: a man-head over heels in love with a woman is just as nuts as a June bug.

Hunters who have been pursuing the elusive Bob White in this county have razed us aplenty for reporting that quail were plentiful in Calloway for this year. Some hunters have been bagging a half dozen or more on each expedition with dog and gun while others have trudged fruitlessly over hill and dale and come in without either birds or humor.

We apologize for our erroneous information. Not having time to get out and scout 'em for ourselves we had to depend on reports gathered hither and yon. Perhaps the birds were plentiful before the opening of the season but they have been shying well concealed since that time.

If Edward gives up his empire for Wally it won't be the first time a kingdom was won or lost over a woman.

An exchange remarks that if Richard III was willing to give his "kingdom for a horse" Edward ought to have the right to give his for a bride.

France wants to settle its debt and when the next European war comes along will want us to come over there and settle that like we did in 1918.

Herbert Hoover says we are headed for another depression. Look out, folks, an authority on 'em is now speaking.

B. C. Allbritten and Lynn Lassiter may not be on the Courier-Journal's or AP's all-star high school team but they're on ours with honorable mention to the Province twins and Van Huie.

It is entirely fitting that some civic organization pay a deserved tribute to the valiant Murray high school football team with a dinner and the young Business Men's Club lived up to its reputation for being a live civic organization when it voted Monday night to extend the invitation.

Naturally the college comes in for foremost attention in athletics. That is the usual order of things and is expected by all. However, that is no reason why we should ignore the sterling efforts of this fine bunch of lads and their peerless coach, Preston Holland.

It's our very own boys who play

Faxon High School

By Wayne Dyer

We are back in school this morning feeling very good over the success of the Basketball game with Hazel Friday night, and the play entitled "Silas Smidge" from Turnip Ridge." Saturday night the main character Silas Smidge was played by Mr. J. H. Wainston, who portrayed his part exceedingly well; however the rest of the characters are not to be overlooked. Everyone in the play did extremely well, including six of the faculty members, five students and two outsiders. Miss Keel had a very large crowd attended and we are very thankful for the wonderful order maintained. We are also thankful for the "No Smoking" signs contributed by Miss Winchester, which were placed in the gymnasium and we are more than thankful for the way smokers heeded these signs.

The Faxon Cardinals won their second basketball game of the season over Hazel Friday night, December 4, by a score of 26-22. It was a hard fought game from the beginning to the end.

The score at the half was 13-10 in favor of Faxon. At the third quarter Hazel led the Cardinals by a score of 19-14. The Faxon second team also won by a score of 17-14. This also was Robert Young and Florence Rice in "THE LONGEST NIGHT" at the Capitol Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

A close, hard fought game. The Cardinals have two games scheduled with Almo Friday night, December 11.

The lineups were as follows:
Faxon 26 Pos. Hazel 22
Folwell 11 F Paschall 6
Gantt 6 F Scarbrough 2
Barnett 5 C C. Lamb 5
Donelson 2 G J. Lamb 6
Cunningham G Tucker 3
Substitutes: Faxon: Thompson
2; Hazel: Turnbow.

The County 4-H Club leaders and officers met December 3, and discussed problems and plans for the coming year of 4-H Club work.

Faxon was represented by Mrs. Oola Geurin, club leader, and Wayne Dyer, president.

We have heard of punch boards being sent to several patrons on mail routes. Some give them to the flames for it really is a form of lottery which might cause the younger folks to go deeper on the wrong road. Yet some of the finest of people seem to thoughtlessly take part in the game of chance and some times get something they wouldn't invest a penny for at a store and many times get nothing for their money. ## Contact Man

By R. H. WILKINSON
Associated Newspapers
WNY Service.

THIS was a job that Jerry hated, even though it involved getting a free dinner at the Plaza. Heretofore the Plaza had been a mystic and glittering part of another world, frequented by people whose incomes were more per week than his was per year. At first when Old Man Harrington assigned him the task of conferring with George Stanton once a month, Jerry had been thrilled. George was sales manager for the Harrington Rubber works. He earned $15,000 a year and had an expensive account. On the first of every month he visited the main plant, and it was Jerry's job to spend the day with him, answering questions and appraising him of any new policies that might have been adopted by the company. Jerry was assistant superintendent of the finishing department and earned $2,500 a year.

He had asked the job at the first because George Stanton always took him to the Plaza to dinner and talked to him as though he were an equal. That was the mockery of it; George treating him like an equal when George made $15,000 and Jerry made $2,500. Worst of all, Jerry had to keep up a good front. He had to pretend that he was himself thinking of buying a new car, that he played golf and went to the theater. He pretended because he was proud. But it made him bitter. George's easy talk of the things Jerry had always wanted, the opulence and glitter of the Plaza all combined to excite his resentment, to make him keenly aware of his own poverty.

It occurred to him that George Stanton wasn't any smarter than he. George Stanton hadn't worked any harder nor was he any more deserving, yet look where he was! Fifteen thousand and an expensive account! Doing and having everything Jerry had ever wanted: Comfort, a big shiny car, his family and his friends. It was unjust and unfair, Jerry thought bitterly. You worked like a slave trying to get ahead and no one noticed. They only noticed when you made some inconsequential error in reckoning, then they came down on you like a ton of brick. And you had to take it, act humble and apologetic, because you were afraid of losing your job. George Stanton with $15,000 per annum and money in the bank had acquired an air of confidence. He had a way of talking that inspired confidence in others. A good income did that to a man.

"Well, Jerry, how have things been going at the factory this month?" George was saying. And Jerry felt like telling him everything was lousy and that old man Harrington ought to be shot for paying experienced help so little. But he didn't. Instead he gave George a detailed account of all that had happened. He was afraid that George might tell old man Harrington if he didn't.

They sat there amid all the glitter of the Plaza for an hour or more. Then George pushed back his chair and reached for his wallet and Jerry, watching the envelope go, felt the envious resentment inside him at sight of the huge wad of bills.

"I'm leaving for Chicago this afternoon," George said. He grinned. "Before take the rest of the day off and shoot some golf. The old man thinks you're with me, and he'll never know."

Jerry nodded and returned the grin. He shook hands with George and they parted. The grin left Jerry's face. "Shoot some golf!" he said to himself bitterly. "That's a laugh. It takes money to shoot some golf."

He did consider attending a movie, but the idea provoked a sense of guilt, and instead he boarded a car and went back to the factory. He'd been in his office ten minutes when old man Harrington sent for him.

"I just had a phone call from Stanton," Harrington said. "He said you might be shooting golf this afternoon."

Jerry colored and boiled inside, thinking how he'd like to punch George Stanton's nose. Old man Harrington continued:

"Jerry, that was a test. I put George up to it. I wanted to see if you'd take advantage of an opportunity to shirk your duty." He paused, and Jerry blinked. "For the past six months, Jerry, I've been having George question you. It was a way I had of finding out if you knew as much as I thought you did about the business. You see, I need a new contact man for the Middle West. It'll be quite an advancement—$10,000 a year and expenses. It's a responsible position and there's plenty of chance for further advancement. Each month George has made his report to me on the result of his questioning of you. He recommends you highly, Jerry. The job is yours, if you'll take it."

Jerry swayed and clutched at the desk. He blinked and swallowed and tried to speak and couldn't. Old man Harrington smiled and nodded understandingly. "All right, Jerry. You can thank me later. And he held out his hand, and Jerry gripped it.

Blue Grass Boy

By MEREDITH SCHOLL

© Associated Newspapers, Inc.

JIMMY ARLINGTON couldn't be expected to understand Kate Hartford or guess at her purpose. Jimmy came from the Blue Grass country of Kentucky, and he possessed all the naive which that statement implies. He was used to great sweeps of meadow land, to upland slopes and distant mountains, to simple country folk who were staunch in traditions concerning loyalty and honor and courage. He had never known a girl like Kate Hartford.

Jimmy's father had been a breeder of blooded horses. It was strange, therefore, about the son's meteoric rise to the peak of the golfing profession. After the Happy Valley tournament, in which Jimmy, who had learned to whack golf balls on an improvised course on his father's green meadows, beat the great Ed Clarendon, five up, Kate decided that the handsome and innocent youth from the Blue Grass could be used to further a few of her selfish ends.

No one, therefore, was greatly surprised when she clubbed him the next night, Jimmy and Kate were seen to be dancing together practically the whole evening, and that the suddenly young man appeared more than casually interested in his lovely partner. Even Ira Fairfax, to whom it was rumored, Kate's engagement was about to be announced, shrugged resignedly and smiled a smile of indifferent defeat. Ira knew Kate of old, and he wasn't surprised.

But Ira, or any one else, didn't assume the responsibility of warning Jimmy about his immediate future. Perforce, Jimmy, all unsuspecting, and thinking only of the code taught him by his honorable father, accepted Kate for what she appeared to be, and fell madly in love with her. Two weeks after their first meeting he told her quite frankly how he felt about the situation and wanted to know if Kate would do him the very great honor of becoming his wife.

But Kate smiled at him in that tantalizing fashion she had, and shook her blonde head. Jimmy was serving her purpose very well as things stood. There wasn't any need of tying himself up to him for life. Besides, rumors were abroad to the effect that the Blue Grass boy had been merely a flash in the pan. He was slipping, athletically and socially speaking. He was losing his glamour.

But Jimmy was ignorant of the rumors of the threat to his popularity and fame. No realization, therefore, of Kate's artifice and deception came as an unexpected and stunning blow. It was chance alone that provided him with the information. "The frosted windows had been lowered from the top several inches, of which, obviously, Kate was unaware. For Kate's voice, beyond the window was clearly and painfully audible. In no uncertain terms she was telling Nan Milford of her vast amusement at Jimmy Arlington's devotion.

Jimmy drove home in a sort of daze. He went up to his apartment and sat down near an open window where the cool wind could blow across his hot face; and thought the thing out from beginning to end. Even in his solitude he blushed furiously. Why, he had been made completely ridiculous! Late that evening Ira Fairfax called Kate Hartford on the telephone. Ira had been drinking and his tone was malicious and gloating. He said: "Well, sweetheart, your little game's all over, and for once the gorgeous Kate has been left holding the bag."

"I don't know what you're talking about," said Kate. "You will, as soon as you get ground. Everyone in the valley is talking about the way Jimmy Arlington played you for a sucker."

"Jimmy? Whatever do you mean?" "I mean, darling, that you proved his source of amusement during his sojourn up north here. He left on the evening train for old Kentucky, to marry the proverbial childhood sweetheart. It seems she wrote him that unless he came home at once she'd marry the grocer's son or somebody. And Jimmy decided on the spot that the old home stock was best. He's gone, after giving us the lowdown, and we're all wondering what our gorgeous Kate is going to do now. Hi, jeh, heh! That last is an echo of the many sounds that are prevalent in and about the clubhouse when your name is mentioned."

Aboard the Dixie Special Jimmy Arlington sat slumped in his seat, moodily contemplating what little could be seen of the passing landscape. There was a great throb in his heart, an awful emptiness. Time, he knew, could heal the wound. Time could do many wonderful things. In the interim he would be back where he belonged and where alone, amid familiar surroundings, he could fight the memory of Kate Hartford, the only girl he had ever loved or ever could love.

RALPH'S RANGLES

Cosch Carlisle Cutchin's Murray State basketball team went down to Heath last Saturday night to meet a group of all-stars in a benefit game for ex-captain James "Sunny" Phillips who was injured recently in an automobile accident. Bill Smith, of the Bagwell-Smith combination, performed for the All-Stars and showed flashes of his old-time brilliance in floor work, but of course his "basket-eye" hadn't been polished up in quite awhile and only found the "strings" for two points. But it was good to see "Bill" and to recall the days when he and Willard Bagwell were "going places."

The first string composed of Graham, Burdette, McKeel, Carroll and Bland rung up a score of 26-8 at half-time period. Mantle, Hurley, Bryant, Fowler and Finley held the floor for third frame and half of the last period. The final score was 47-18, Murray.

McKeel, with his poker-face tactics, gently but firmly dropped 16 points through to lead the scoring. Burdette, in his windmill fashion added 8 points while passing the "ball" brilliantly. Carroll has lost none of his "tricks" and put on a fine floor game and added 6 points in the meantime. "Lulu" Graham took things easy for the evening and only turned on the heat in a passing game. Bland took the affair with his chin up and spent the evening in "catching on" to the "ways and means" of four "Crown Wearers". By mid-season Bland should be fitting in nicely at the gap left vacant by the graduation of Phillips. It will be a man-sized job, but we believe he will turn in a commendable season.

Mantle and Hurley, Murray subs, tied up in scoring honors with 6 each, while Hurley turned in a smoother floor game to gain "tops" for the "irregulars".

Haven't heard much from the Arkansas Sisters of Jonesboro, but me-thinks the Breds are taking on a stiff competitor for the opening heat Friday night at the college auditorium.

Kirksey School News

By Elizabeth Lawson, Mary E. Johnson, and Geraldine Hurt

Chapel Program

The freshman class presented a program Friday at our usual chapel period. Frances Coleman acted as spokesman of the class. They carried out the idea of being a Freshman. They left imprinted on our minds several reasons why we should be glad to come to school at Kirksey. At the beginning of the program every member of the class gave a nursery rhyme. Then the following program was given: Bible reading, L. C. Miller; Black Face Jambbers, Meredith Story and Ralph Gingles; duet, Hontas Copeland and Willa-Mae Harris; harp solo, Swift Mc. ab; dance, Virginia Stewart; song, Willa Dean Pace; Jews harp solo, Ralph Billington; reading, Hontas Copeland; Three Things I Like About Kirksey School, Sylvia Lawrence and Wilna Dell Wilson.

A demonstration of athletic talent was then given by Ralph Billington, Keys Holland, Bryce Edwards, Charles Martin, John Brewer, Meredith Story, Howard Armstrong, and Ralph Gingles. The program was very good and everyone enjoyed it.

Campfire News

Our party. Our contest at last came to an end and Elizabeth Lawson, in charge of the "Roosters", was declared winner. Last Wednesday morning Evelyn Paschall and the "Whizzers" gave their program. Miss Erwin acted as judge and she pronounced it a close race between Evelyn Dell and Elizabeth. It was decided at an earlier meeting to give the winner a party on Thursday night, the week following Thanksgiving and their idea was successfully carried out.

As it was a girls' party only the teachers' wives and Miss Palmer were invited.

We met at the gymnasium at 6 o'clock and the committee in charge of the games immediately took us in charge. At the very beginning of the evening the group was divided into two sides and throughout the party all the contests were between these two groups. Near the end of the party we had two basketball games between the girls. Between games we were treated with some nice big apples, which everyone enjoyed very much. Finally we were asked to match pictures to find our partner for refreshments. After mouth trying we were all matched and ready for the grand march over to the cabin where we were served hot chocolate with marshmallows and cookies. After putting the room in order for classwork the next day we all left thanking the "Blazers" and "Whizzers" for a very nice time.

Ball Games

Kirksey added another victory to her number Friday night, December 4, when she met Hickman at Hickman. The score was 41-10. The second team was also victorious, 40-16. We have a game scheduled with Lynn Grove Friday night December 11, at Kirksey.

Junior Play

The play, "A Poor Married Man" was given by the junior class, Saturday night, November 28. Each class in school plans to give a play sometime this year.

Heath School News

By Seventh Grade
We went to Coldwater and played basketball. After a hard game we were defeated by three points. Russell and Rose played a nice game for us. C. B. Christensen played a nice game for Coldwater. We hope to play them again soon. In a game with Landon, Heath won by eight points. The players were: Russell, Rose, Venable, Copeland, and Russell. The scores were made as follows: Russell 4, Copeland 6, "Little Russell" 4, Heath 10. Heath surely did like the referee, Mr. Watson, who called a nice game. Our boys played Darnall School there Friday afternoon, December 4. We had hard game but managed to win 16-7. Our boys could not hit the basket, missing more shots than they hit. Copeland was high point man of the game with 10 tallies, due to excellent passing from his teammates, Rose, Venable, and Russell. We plan to play Darnall here next Friday and a good game is expected.

Honor Roll

Our honor roll for the fifth month is as follows: First grade: Mary E. Swift, Mattie Lou Norsworthy, Harold Stewart, Berline Starks, Charles Dean Starks; second grade: Huntly Manning, Bettie Ann Hargis, Mildred Norsworthy; fourth grade: Maud Ross, Virginia Ross; fifth grade: Paul Copeland, Henry E. Treas, Z. B. Russell, Wendell Norsworthy; seventh grade: Roy Rose and J. B. Crisp.

We have been very busy for the past two weeks reading our new library books. We have fourteen new books.

We are planning to give a play entitled, "Two Days to Marry," in the near future. The characters are Theron Russell, Wade Copeland, Roy Rose, Arlette Venable, Nell Pace, Charlene Tidwell, and J. B. Crisp. We have just gotten all our parts copied off. The start next week practicing. The play has three acts and will take two and one-half hours to present it. No admission will be charged.

Those that haven't missed a day this month are: Bobby Gene Watson, Charles L. Nanny, James H. Armstrong, Urban Belcher, Betty J. Drinkard, Frankie Travis, Eva N. ### Young Business Men's Club Appreciates Co-operation

The Young Business Men's Club, which sponsored the co-operative Christmas decorations in Murray for the holidays, went on record at its regular meeting Monday night in appreciation of the splendid assistance and co-operation of the business men in the downtown area where the decorations were planned.

It was reported that, with a single exception, co-operation was unanimous. Appropriate resolutions were ordered drawn, expressing the club's appreciation.

The club voted to give a banquet in honor of the Murray High School football team. The social committee will be in charge of arrangements and date will be announced soon.

No home is safe from tuberculosis until all homes are safe because it is a communicable disease caused by a germ that can be passed by the sick to the well. The Christmas Seals you buy help to find the sick and to protect the well.

Last year there were 16 deaths from tuberculosis in Calloway county. You may have part in this great life-saving work by purchasing Christmas Seals.

"Attack Tuberculosis First"

Leading Health Authority Says Public Health Enemy No. 1 Can Be Wiped Out

"The greatest need for health action is where the greatest saving of life and suffering can be made," says Dr. Thomas Parran, Jr., Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service. Dr. Parran has the reputation of being a fighter and he has already begun his war on the great disease that are in need of immediate attention.

Tuberculosis comes first for it is the greatest of the public health foes, according to Dr. Parran. When we consider that 70,000 persons die needlessly each year in this country from that communicable, preventable disease, it is hopeful news that our leading health authority has determined to attack tuberculosis first and "to finish the job of wiping it out."

The fact that in the past thirty

The Time: Autumn of 1907. The place: Wilmington, Delaware. The Girl—Miss Emily P. Bissell. The Motive: A hospital for tuberculosis children. This is the short, short story of the first Christmas Seal sale in the United States.

years the death rate from tuberculosis has been cut two-thirds is encouraging. Still we find that it is still the leading cause of death in the productive years, 15 to 45. Heart disease, for example, the leading cause of death for all age groups, takes its greatest number of lives in the older years, beyond the age of 50. The tragedy of tuberculosis is that deaths from it usually mean broken homes and orphaned children.

Dr. Parran further said, "Our goal is to wipe out tuberculosis. Tuberculosis is curable. I maintain that it now may be wiped out in our nation."

In December the penny Christmas Seals are being sold for the thirtieth year. Their message this year is that amended slogan and an appeal to every thinking man and woman in the country to help in the war to wipe out tuberculosis before the next thirty years have passed.

The first Christmas Seals were sold in 1907 and to have a complete collection, including this year's one must have 34 varieties of design. Why 34 in 30 years? Because there were two designs in 1907 and four in 1913.

DR. CARR TO BE HONORED DEC. 13

Brief Program Will Be Given Celebrating His 77th Birthday

To honor the 77th birthday of Dean John W. Carr on December 13, 1936, a short program has been announced by President J. H. Richmond of Murray State College.

Prof. W. M. Caudill, one of the first members of the faculty of Murray State College when it began operation under the presidency of Dr. Carr, will preside over the meeting in the reading room of the college library Sunday afternoon, December 13.

A portrait of Dr. Carr, painted by Miss Margaret Woodruff, former faculty member here, will be unveiled and presented by a member of the Woodruff family. Dr. Richmond, as president of the college, will accept the portrait on behalf of the college.

Dr. Carr will then make a formal presentation of the larger portion of his private collection of books for the Murray library. After the acceptance speech by Dr. Richmond, Mr. Caudill, geography instructor, will summarize the life and works of Dr. Carr, Murray's first president and present dean. Dr. Carr was born 77 years ago at Anderson, Ind.

"DON'T MISS THE GREAT ZIEGFELD"

Every once in a while a truly great picture is brought to the screen. That is why we take this opportunity to call your attention to what is, in my opinion, one of the most unusual pictures ever produced—"THE GREAT ZIEGFELD." I not only endorse it, but personally guarantee it as the outstanding picture of all times.

Clifton E. Morris, Manager.
